Here's the Form of the Horses Running To-Morrow in the Jamaica Races

Copyright 1907, by the Press Publishing Co. (The New York World.)

Training Gallops, Past Races and Everything of Importance in Guide to Winner Picking.

Here is the form complete of all the horses entered to run to-morrow at Jamaica. This is the latest racing feature. It gives at a glance a good idea of the fitness of every horse and should be invaluable to those desiring to pick winners.

FIRST RACE—Selling, two-year-olds, five furlongs.

Privateer 100
130 Hilda Range 100
135 Foremost 100
140 Ben. Chie 100
145 Quercus 100
150 Aelia 100

RIFLE RANGE—First start at Aqueduct April 15 in Ozone Stakes at four furlongs and, with 30 pounds up, ran absolutely last to Blue Heron (102).

FORNOST—Made his first start April 23 at Aqueduct, and with 101 pounds up finished ninth to Citizen (101) at four and a half furlongs.

BEN COLLE—Ran second to Servile (102) and beat Helen B (100) for place at four furlongs April 12 at Aqueduct. Carried 102 pounds. Second to Jubilee (107) and beat Gosport (107) at four and a half furlongs April 12. Carried 102 pounds. Won at four and a half furlongs March 30, and carried 100 pounds up beat Billy Hibbes (112) and Woodcraft (109). Time, 0:57.25.

CUPERNAVACA—With 99 pounds up ran fifth to Paul Pry (100) at Aqueduct April 3. In four starts has never been in the money. Worked four furlongs in 0:49 at Gravesend to-day and shows speed in morning gallops.

ALBIA—Ninth to Laura Clay (89) in the Elythra Stakes April 27 and carried 99 pounds. Third to Kerry and Slumberless, both 99, at four and a half furlongs at Aqueduct April 22. Carried 94 pounds.

CHASING THE TWO PENNANTS.

Over six hundred bulldoggers are now engaged at salaries ranging from $100 to $1,000 per month by the thirty-eight leagues operating under organized baseball. Every player is guaranteed his salary, although at least one-half of the clubs will lose money. The players hold the high cards in our national game.

The Boston Americans have no less than nine pitchers out in uniform at each game, all well and willing to work. Not as long as a pitcher felt injured if he was not allowed to pitch every second game, which at least one-half of the clubs will let money. The players hold the high cards in our national game.

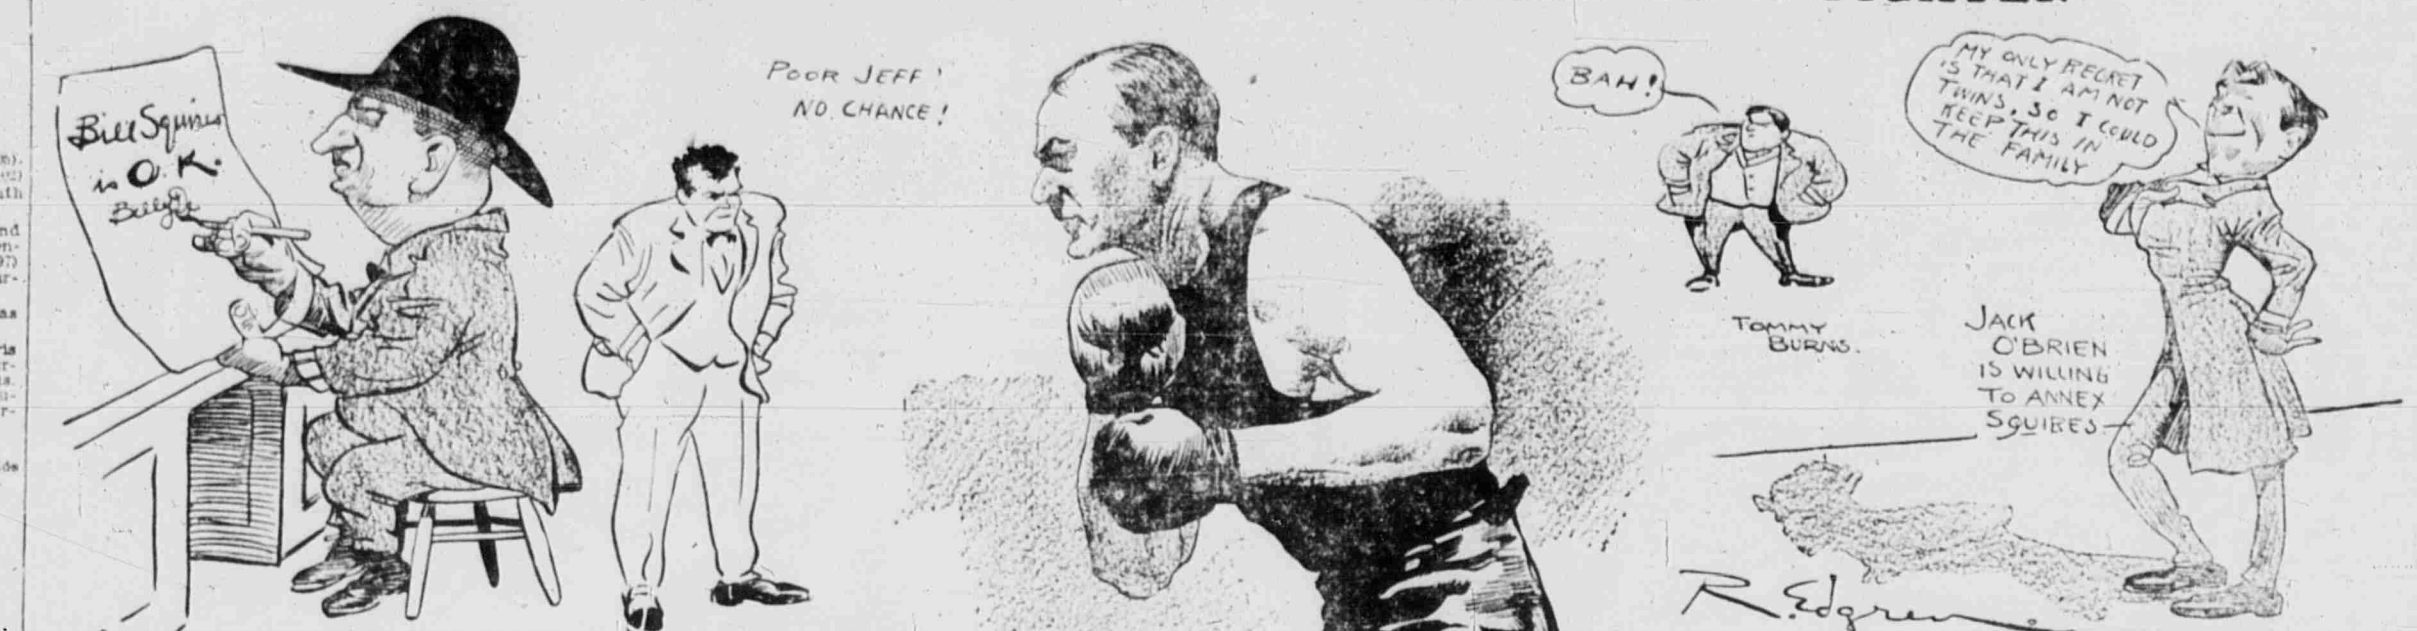

Louis Halpern, formerly business representative for the St. Louis Browns, recently contacted with the Cincinnati Reds, and has been offered a position as manager of the team. Halpern has been in the game for some time, and has had several years' experience in the line.

As popular as a young man as a player, the left-hander at the various home games has never been out of the crowd and has been able to give a hint to any one who has been able to get into the clubhouse. Halpern has been in the game for some time, and has had several years' experience in the line.

President Morgan of the Chicago National Bank has been elected to the position of president of the National Bank of Commerce, a position of great importance in the financial world.

BILL SQUIRES HAS ALL THE EARMARKS OF A FIGHTER

BILLY DELANEY, THE "KING-MAKER," SAYS SQUIRES WILL DO.

BILLY DELANEY PUTS O. K. ON "BOSHTER BILL"

BILL SQUIRES, of Australia, has signed up for a match with the winner of the Burns-O'Brien fight. That disposes of Bill. We won't hear much more about him until Burns and "Philadelphia Jack" have settled their difficulties.

In the mean time, Squires will go quietly into training, and, will, of course, be "fit to fight the battle of his career" when the time comes.

This Squires, now that the Californians have had time to look him over, is making a good impression. In build he is a larger edition of Tommy Ryan. He isn't a Sharkey, by any means.

But he is about as husky as a little 173-pound heavyweight needs to be.

Squires has characteristics of many fighters. He is built generally like Ryan; has a bald head, like Fitzsimmons, that other Great Antipodean; other Fitz, then he can have his championship fight.

If he isn't, then Jeff will have to sit at the ring side and see the big purses go to far inferior fighters who aren't worth fighting by being too good.

Squires weighs 173 pounds. Trained down again to fighting form he would weigh 240.

There is something like seventy pounds difference in weight between Squires and Ryan.

Imagine Squires fighting a man seventy pounds lighter than himself. Let's see that would make his opponent about 103 pounds in weight. Imagine Squires fighting Willie Schumacker. Or imagine him fighting Terry McGovern, kid brother Phil. It wouldn't be a bit more ridiculous than the notion of Jeffries fighting Squires.

Still, old Billy Delaney, the famous heavy-weight "King Maker," has looked over and says that he seems to like all right. Billy is also credited with saying that he will be $5,000 on Squires' chances against either Burns or O'Brien. That was all business. Billy never said it. Billy wouldn't bet $5,000 on any body but the world's best fighter. And he would back the big fellow against a first-class bare-knuckler.

That's something. There isn't a better judge of fighters in the world than Delaney.

HOWEVER that may be, there is still very little chance of eventually seeing Squires against Jeffries. The only chance for such a match would appear if it turned out that this new kangaroo is another Fitzsimmons. Fitz, as a middle-weight, could hit hard enough and box craftily enough to whip almost any heavyweight in the world. If Squires is another Fitzsimmons, he is a good one.

TOMMY BENDER and Tommy Murphy will fight to-night at the National Sporting Club. Bender is the gentleman who whipped Abe Attell here a couple of years ago in Billy Elmer's gymnasium. Bender knocked Attell out, but a knockout for Abe wasn't in the contract the referee gave him time to recover and stand up. After that Attell stalled to the end.

Bender is a clever boxer and is absolutely the coldest proposition in the ring. Murphy has been training right along at fighting a quinine now and then. He is one of the most clever boys in this part of the country.

PITCHER MUST MAKE BATTER Hit in Certain Direction

TO keep the batter from hitting the ball is almost an impossibility, so pitchers who think have adopted methods to make him hit as nearly as possible in a certain direction.

Even then if the ball is hit on a line it will fall safe nine times out of ten, but they seldom meet it so squarely. The pitcher, therefore, must use team work and signals in conjunction with the rest of the field when on the defense.

If a pitcher were a dangerous batter facing him with a man on base he must think if the runner is on first he usually makes the batter hit to left field. A right-handed batter will usually hit a slow ball to left, as he meets the ball earlier than if it were fast, and consequently "pulls" it toward that side.

The pitcher consequently signals in the field that he expects the batter to hit to extreme left field. The left fielder, in that event, will move over close to the foul line, the center fielder will station himself toward left, and the shortstop moves closer to third. If the play works, one of those four will get the ball and the runner will be held at first.

If the signal is for a "fast ball" or a "first curve" the field moves toward right, if a runner is on third and the infield "comes in" close the pitcher will keep the ball as high and fast as possible, so that it will not be lifted to the outfield.

This may explain to the inquirer as to what is meant by a pitcher having a "good head." He needs it.

BILL SQUIRES IS BUILT LIKE TOMMY RYAN.

No. 33 INDEXED May TRAINING GALLOPS
